

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The international conference “Frontiers in Science: An Integrative Approach in Solving Global Challenges” aims to unite scientists, researchers, educators, and students to address pressing global issues like climate change, public health, sustainability, and energy security through interdisciplinary collaboration. Emphasizing integration across physical, chemical, biological, environmental, and computational sciences, the conference promotes innovative, solution-oriented research. Special focus is given to empowering students, particularly from rural and semi-urban areas, in line with the National Education Policy. By encouraging knowledge exchange, mentorship, and research exposure, the event aspires to build a collaborative, research-driven culture that fosters real-world impact and academic excellence.

ABOUT COLLEGE

Krishnagar Government College, established in 1846 in Nadia district of West Bengal, stands as a beacon of academic excellence. Founded under British colonial rule, it was among the earliest institutions to promote Western education in India. Notable alumni include geologist Pramatha Nath Bose and poet Dwijendralal Ray along with others. Transitioning to a co-educational institution in 1932, it now offers diverse undergraduate and postgraduate programs. Affiliated with the University of Kalyani since 1999, the college has earned various accolades reflecting its enduring legacy in Indian education.

ABOUT KRISHNAGAR CITY

Krishnagar, the administrative headquarters of Nadia district in West Bengal, is renowned for its rich cultural heritage and artistic traditions. Situated along the Jalangi River, the city is famed for its Ghurni neighborhood, home to skilled clay artisans. Key attractions include the historic Krishnagar Rajbari, the Roman Catholic Church, and the vibrant Jagaddhatri Puja festival. As the district's central hub, Krishnagar plays a pivotal role in governance and culture. Mayapur, the global headquarters of ISKCON, draws thousands of devotees annually, adding to the region's rich cultural and spiritual significance.

HOW TO REACH

Krishnagar is easily accessible from Kolkata. Frequent trains from Sealdah take about 2.5-3 hours. Buses and taxis via NH 12 offer a scenic 3 hour ride. Local travel is simple with buses, rickshaws, and shared "Toto" rides
